

Blind readers very seldom visit the library but their reading needs are given individual attention by furnishing reading material through the bookmobile. Bible talking books made available through the Edward A. Johnson Fund for the Blind greatly enhance the library's service to the blind.

Aged and shut-in persons also receive book service, and are given assistance in the selection of books, which are taken to them on regular scheduled visits by the bookmobile.

YOUNG ADULTS

In an effort to help young people make a satisfactory adjustment to the world of adults, the library has an obligation to provide activity and carefully selected reading materials for this specific group. The Young Adult American Heritage Discussion group was begun to help carry out this obligation. It is regarded as a significant part of the library's service to young people in the age group 17 through 21.

The Teen-Age Library Club was formed to further the interest of members of this age group in library activities. This club meets weekly to carry on a program of activities. In addition to book discussions resources people from the community are invited to speak on various subjects of interest to this group.

PHOTO RIGHT: Young Adult Discussion Group

